It didn't take Portsmouth ten innings to defeat the Champions yesterday. They did it with their little but in the nith inning An old-time crowd of fans, to the tune of some five thousand, gathered in the grand-stand, on the bleacheries, and around the fence, but there was a lack of enthusiasm that was appalling. Like the two previous games, this was neatly played, and won on its merits. Boland, as usual, was removed from the

at third from far centre.

The base running of the Champions was simply superb, and it was through the daring of Foster, Pender, and Tannehill that Elefimond's three runs were brought in. Foster, in the third, was given the walk by Brandt, he stole second, went to third, on Pender's hit, and stole home. Pender singled, stole second, want to third on Wilson's passed ball, and scored of Frandt's wild patch. Tancefull singled, got second on Sholta's accuracy, pillered third, and scored on Pender's single. This ended the run getting for the Cham-

An Easy Victory for the Home Team-An

NORFOLK, VA., Aug. 22.-Special.-Hampton was easily defeated by Norfolk to-day by a score of 6 to 2. It would have been a shut-out but for the error of Rothermel, who was playing at short for the locals. THE ROOTER'S LAMENT. Oh, the day seems sad and somber,
And like a dismal pall
Are the spirits of the rooters.
When the team plays losing ball;
Life itself is not worth living.
And everything seems tame,
When labour agreemation When Jakey's aggregation Plays a

Oh, the sting of disappointment,
Oh, the woe and wounded pride,
When down the steep toboggan The hope team takes a side.

Then the world seems cold and dreary,
And friends are not the same.

When the fan the morning paper Takes and opens to the page.
Where the daily base-ball record.

He slinks away in shame.
